I love to design! I am especially passionate about designing for a cause. Whether promoting a charity event or advocating an important social issue I'm always keen to contribute my skills for a meaningful purpose.

Having said that I find fulfilment in all areas of design. While I possess strong print based skills I have deep personal interests in Website Design as well as Photography. Currently I am pursuing those interests and making efforts to expand my skill base whilst searching for full-time employment in the design industry.
